

Canton's 2008 – 2009 Teacher of the Year

On August 25th, opening day for teachers and staff, Marsha Jorgensen was introduced for the first time as our “Teacher of the Year.” Marsha teaches science in the Middle School, but her impact on students and on education in Canton reaches far beyond her own classroom.

Marsha was nominated by one of her students, and her selection was the unanimous decision of the district’s committee. She is now in the process of submitting an extensive application to the State for Connecticut honors.

To read Joe Scheideler's Opening Day introduction, please click here.

To read Marsha's acceptance speech to her colleagues, please click here.